Funding Opportunities for Early Career Scientists

Wednesday 12 November 2025 17:00 (1 hour)

The aim of this session is to explore career opportunities for early-career scientists, with a focus on post-doctoral positions and fellowship applications. I will present available fellowships across different countries and share tips on applying for the European Marie Curie Fellowship. The session will be interactive, and early-career scientists are encouraged to ask questions based on their experiences related to job applications.

Presenter: MAGGIO, Elisa
